

3. PEOPLE AND FOOTBALL ... 'ungovernable'

Inflating a football

During the 15th Century in Scotland, King James II, banned football. He wanted people over 12 years old to practice archery instead. People ignored him and 2 more laws were made to outlaw the game and fine the players.

1. Discuss what the King could do if people ignore his commands.
2. Discuss how people could organise to keep playing football against the King's rule.
3. Discuss why archery would be useful to a king.
4. Discuss why a person called a king can make a rule over another person.
